

NVS Corporate day goes with a bang!

The first NVS Clay Pigeon shooting corporate event saw over 20 guests enjoying the outdoor activities at Cowan's Law in Moscow, Ayrshire.

For a bit of fun the group was split into teams to compete in four contests consisting of Clay Pigeon Shooting, Rifle Shooting, Archery and Quad Biking. Teams were made up of experienced and beginner participants to make the competition fair. However, a special prize was presented to Northern Sales Manager Nigel Clare for his inability to get any shots on the target during the rifle shooting! We're sure Nigel is making his way to Specsavers!

Apologies to James Brown of Polmont Vets on missing out on a prize. His score was so high that it was taken as a team target instead of an individual, although James did admit to being a professional on the rifle range!

A fantastic buffet was served so special thanks to Delia and Jay of Cowan's Law. In particular the special recipe dessert, ingredients yet to be divulged, seemed to be a favourite.

Thanks to the weather the outdoor activities were enjoyed by all and only during the quad biking did we experience the usual west coast weather by splashing through the puddles. Photographs of some very muddy vets available on request.

Thanks to all customers who attended on the day and participated so willingly. Hopefully we can look forward to something similar next year.

Robert Sykes from Corner Vets showing how it's done. The day consisted of experienced competitors and beginners in clay pigeon shooting.

Neil Clyde Vets, the winner of the quad bike competition, but as a large animal vet we're sure he's been practicing whilst out on the farm.

Double congratulations

go to Julie Billingham in NVS's Orderline (pictured), who married fiancé Dave on 13th November 2009 at The New Horseshoe in Hawton Heath End, followed by the reception at Radway Green Social Club.

The couple honeymooned in Egypt, before Julie celebrated her 40th Birthday just three days later.
